Trammell Crow closes its Milwaukee office

Commercial real estate firm Trammell Crow Co. has closed its Milwaukee-area office, and the office's former operator has established his own firm.

Crow closed its office last week after Jack Quinlevan, former vice president, opened Quinlevan Commercial Real Estate Inc. at 2675 N. Mayfair Road, Wauwatosa. The new firm will focus on representing office tenants in lease negotiations, and it also will provide project development services and acquisition and sale services.

Quinlevan was the last remaining employee at Crow's Milwaukee-area office before it closed.

The Milwaukee operations were reduced after Crow merged in 1998 with Faison & Associates Inc. and decided to focus on core customers in targeted markets.

Dallas-based Crow opened its Milwaukee office in 1978, and it developed several area buildings throughout the '70s and '80s, including Brown Deer Business Park, Park Place Office Park, Brookfield Lakes Corporate Center and the Milwaukee Center.
